Capital goods firms may report flat margins in Q4

Volumes expected to rise as demand picks up in select sectors, say experts

ADITI DIVEKAR
Mumbai, 8 March

Domestic capital goods industry is gearing up for strong performance in 2021-22 (FY22), with margins for the March quarter expected to be flat year-on-year (YoY).

“The revenue volumes are looking up in the March quarter and may be up 8-9 per cent YoY. But with raw material prices going up for steel and other base metals, margins are seen flat for the quarter,” said Vimal Kejriwal, managing director and chief executive officer of KEC International.

The company’s order intake in the March quarter so far has been ₹9,600 crore. Another ₹6,000 crore are orders where the company has emerged the lowest bidder, but is yet to get a formal award of contract. It aims to end 2020-21 (FY21) with an order intake of ₹16,000 crore, against ₹12,000 crore in 2019-20.

“Demand from transmission and distribution, international (business), and green energy corridor in the domestic market has picked up well. Oil and gas, water pipeline, chemicals, and Metro projects are a few segments showing healthy recovery,” said Kejriwal.

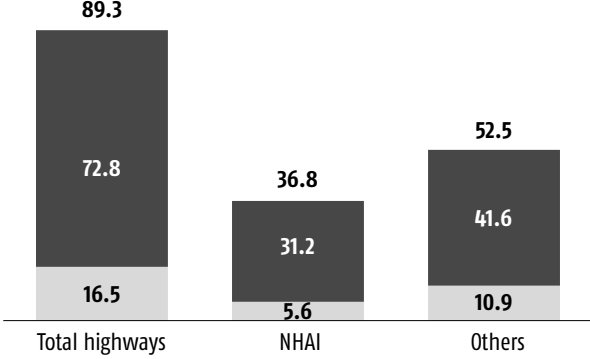

Larsen & Toubro (L&T), on the other hand, could see an order inflow growth at 15 per cent YoY in the fourth quarter (Q4), implying the company will be able to retain 3-per cent order inflow growth for the full year (FY21).

“We see potential for mid-teens order inflow growth in Q4, ensuring the overall inflows for FY21 witness growth, against a broader expectation of a sharp decline a few quarters back,” said Bernstein in its report.

Order wins for L&T in Q4 were primarily led by domestic orders (78 per cent of the overall order mix), although a mix of international orders has returned to its normal run-rate of 25 per cent, said the Bernstein report.

Domestic orders were largely led by segments like railways (Metro and electrification) and power generation, it said.

Meanwhile, there were some sectors which did not pick up, belying expectations. “Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, there were expectations of the warehousing and pharmaceutical segments picking up, but these sectors have not picked up. There is no widespread growth in these sectors, which was strongly against industry expectations,” said Kejriwal.

Going ahead, the companies remain bullish on order flow, coupled with strong earnings. “The government is focused on infrastructure spend because it recognises the fact that the driver for the economy will be infrastructure. Based on the announcements and initiatives, we believe there is a concrete plan

WHAT HAPPENED NEXT: Phoenix Mills in December last year floated a similar JV with Singapore's GIC

RAGHAVENDRA KAMATH
Mumbai, 8 March

Canada Pension Plan Investment Board (CPPIB), Canada's largest pension fund manager, is signing a joint venture (JV) with Indian developer RMZ, despite facing roadblocks in previous JVs in the real estate space.

CPPIB had over $475 billion of assets under management globally as of December 31, 2020, and invested in the real estate sector in 20 countries.

Three of its Indian partners went ahead and formed similar JVs with other investors in the past.

While two of its previous JVs — with Shapoorji Pallonji Group and Ajay Piramal-led Piramal Enterprises — did not take off, another one with mall developer Phoenix Mills saw the Indian partner forming a similar JV with Singaporean fund GIC to build malls.

In 2013, CPPIB and Shapoorji Pallonji Group formed a JV to acquire FDI-compliant office buildings in major metros in the country. CPPIB owned 80 per cent of the venture with an initial equity commitment of $200 million. The JV bought one asset in Chennai and later sold it to Singaporean investor Mapletree. After that, the JV did not acquire any property. Later, Shapoorji formed tie-ups with Germany's Allianz group and Abu Dhabi sovereign fund Abu Dhabi Investment Authority (ADIA) to buy commercial properties. “They had high yield expectations but yields have fallen as many investors entered commercial properties, pushing up valuations,” said a person, who dealt with CPPIB earlier.

Another executive said CPPIB took a lot of time to make decisions due to its stringent processes.

Many investors such as US-based Blackstone, Canada's Brookfield Asset Management, Xander group, and other investors put in billions of dollars into Indian commercial properties in the last decade. They even tapped public markets via REITs.

In 2014, CPPIB tied up with Ajay Piramal-led Piramal Enterprises to float a venture to give rupee debt to residential projects across major cities. Both committed $250 million for the venture. But the venture did very little in terms of disbursements, sources said. Piramal later floated a JV with Canada's CDPQ to give equity money to property developers besides giving debt to developers on its own.

However, the two announced a JV for an infrastructure investment trust focused on renewable energy. CPPIB also invested $225 million in the distressed assets fund. Recently, Piramal grouped all its JVs with global investors such as CPPIB, CDPQ and others under Piramal Alternatives, its new asset management company.

In 2017, it formed a JV with mall developer Phoenix Mills to develop, own and operate malls and CPPIB invested over ₹1,600 crore in the venture in two tranches. Also, Phoenix Mills, in December last year, floated a similar joint venture with Singapore's GIC to invest in its malls and offices.

To Business Standard's queries on previous JVs, a CPPIB spokesperson said, “We are a significant investor in India, with Canadian $12 billion invested in real estate, infrastructure, public and private equities, funds, co-investments and credit as on December 31, 2020. We have been investing in India before we opened our Mumbai office in 2015. We don't gauge investment returns based on short-term performance. We operate with an investment horizon that spans decades.”

In 2017, CPPIB formed a JV with logistics company Indospace and committed $500 million to the venture. In 2018, CPPIB took 30 per cent of IndInfraviv Trust, the country's first private infrastructure investment trust.

and a concerted effort towards infrastructure spending. We shall be closely monitoring the implementation of the various initiatives announced in the Budget and shall actively engage in bidding for tenders to be announced under the National Infrastructure Pipeline,” said Sunil Mathur, managing director and chief executive officer of Siemens.

For the first quarter of 2020-21 ended December 31, 2020 — Siemens follows an October-September financial year cycle — the company registered revenue from the continuing operations at ₹2,858 crore, a 15.9-per cent increase over the same quarter in the preceding year.

In the period under review, the company's profit before tax from continuing operations of ₹353 crore was 12.4 per cent of the revenue.

Expansionary FY22 budget, a $1.5-trillion National Infrastructure Pipeline with 50 per cent visibility, step-up in road ordering, new Metro/high-speed rail projects kicking off, and tentative revival in select private capital expenditure, or capex (i.e., metals/energy), signal India's capex cycle is finally moving, said the JPMorgan report.

“We estimate a 10-per cent FY21-23 order book compound annual growth rate for L&T. Cancellation risks are lower than before, with focus on order quality and funding. We estimate 21 per cent and 14 per cent consolidated revenue growth in FY22 and FY23, respectively. We assume 9.1 per cent/9.3 per cent core margin, with commodities spike offsetting productivity loss/Covid-cost reversals and 12 per cent/12.3 per cent Ebitda margin,” said the JPMorgan report.

SII seeks govt intervention on import of raw material

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, 8 March

Serum Institute of India (SII), the world's largest vaccine manufacturer by volume, has sought the central government's intervention so as to enable the firm import essential raw materials from the US for uninterrupted manufacturing and supply of Covid-19 vaccines.

In a letter to Commerce Secretary Anup Wadhawan and Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla, Director, Government and Regulatory Affairs at Pune-based SII, Prakash Kumar Singh said the US government has invoked the Defence Production Act because of which the firm is facing difficulties in importing necessary products like cell culture medias, raw material, single-use tubing assemblies and some specialty chemicals from the US.

Singh further said the Serum Institute is working on many other vaccine projects in technical collaboration with various Institutions for which it depends on import of many necessary products like raw materials, consumables and components from various foreign manufacturers, especially from the US.

“Through the Defence production Act, the US government has established two prioritising systems, Defence Priorities and Allocations System Program and Health Resources Priority and Allocations System. The HRPAS has two principal components i.e. priorities and allocations. Under the priority component, certain contracts between the government and private parties or between private parties for the production or delivery of industrial resources required to produce vaccine will be given priority over other contracts to facilitate expedited delivery in promotion of the US, National defence,” he said in the letter.

Race, title and anguish: Meghan, Harry explain royal rift

Prince Harry and Meghan Markle during an interview with Oprah Winfrey.

Los Angeles

In a wide-ranging interview, Harry and Meghan described painful discussions about the colour of their son's skin, losing royal protection and the intense pressures that led the Duchess of Sussex to contemplate suicide.

The interview aired Sunday with Oprah Winfrey was the couple's first since they stepped down from royal duties and the two-hour special included numerous revelations likely to reverberate on both sides of the Atlantic.

Harry told Winfrey that he felt trapped by royal life and was surprised that he was cut off financially and lost his security last year. He also said he felt his family did not support Meghan, who acknowledged her naivete about royal life before marrying Harry, as she endured tabloid attacks and false stories.

Meghan, who is biracial, described that when she was first pregnant with son Archie, there were "concerns and conversations about how dark his skin might be when he's born." The statement led Winfrey to ask "What," incredulously and sit in silence for a moment.

In a rare positive moment in the interview, Harry and Meghan revealed their second would be a girl.

In response to a question from Winfrey, Harry said he wouldn't have left royal life if not for his wife, the actor formerly known as Meghan Markle who starred in the TV drama "Suits." He said their relationship revealed the strictures of royal life.

Harry acknowledged that he does not have a close relationship presently with his brother William, who is heir to the throne after their father, Prince Charles.

Meghan responded that she experienced suicidal thoughts and had sought help through the palace's human resources department, but was told there was nothing they could do.

Meghan said she grew concerned about her son not having a royal title because it meant he wouldn't be provided security.

Meghan said digesting everything during while pregnant was "very hard." More than the "prince" title, she was the most concerned about her son's safety and protection.

Meghan said it was hard for her to understand why there were concerns within the royal family about her son's skin colour. She said it was hard for her to "compartmentalize" those conversations. Harry said the royal family cut him off financially at the start of 2020 after announcing plans to step back from his roles. But he was able to afford security for his family because of the money his mother, Princess Diana, left behind.

Meghan said she and Harry were aligned during their courtship because of their "cause-driven" work. But she did not fully comprehend the pressure of being linked to the prestigious royal family.

"It's easy to have an image of it that is so far from reality," she said. "And that's what was really tricky over those past few years, is when the perception and the reality are two very different things. And you're being judged on the perception, but you're living the reality of it. There's a complete misalignment and there's no way to explain that to people."

MANDALAY: Security forces shot dead two people in northern Myanmar on Monday, local media reported, as the military government continued its attempt to stamp out opposition to its February 1 coup. The Irrawaddy newspaper said the victims were shot in the head during anti-coup protests in Myitkyina in Kachin State. DHAKA: The Bangladesh Law Ministry on Monday recommended extending a freeze on the jail sentences of opposition leader Khaleda Zia by six months in two corruption cases. The recommendation was sent out to the Home Ministry earlier in the day, bdnews24 quoted the Law Ministry as saying in a statement. The 76-year-old former Prime Minister and opposition Bangladesh Nationalist Party (BNP) chief had served 25 months out of 17 years of prison sentences in two graft cases -- Zia Orphanage Trust and Zia Charitable Trust -- before she was released last year amid the coronavirus pandemic.

Attack on Saudi oil site triggers surge in oil prices

AP

Oil prices rose Monday as Saudi Arabian oil facilities were targeted by drone strikes just days after the largest crude exporting nations in the world said they would not increase output.

Brent crude, the international standard, surpassed $70 per barrel for the first time in over a year, gaining $1.14 to $70.47 a barrel. It surged $2.62 on Friday.

Benchmark US Crude oil added $1.10 to $67.19 per barrel, up 1.7%, falling back from bigger gains earlier in the day. It jumped $2.26 to $66.09 per barrel on Friday.

Crude prices have surged more than 30% this year as massive vaccinations campaigns gain momentum, potentially signaling the beginning of the end of a global pandemic.

The attacks in Saudi Arabia follow a devastating winter freeze in Texas and other parts of the southern United States last month knocked out production of roughly 4 million barrels per day of US oil, pushing prices above $60 a barrel for the first time in more than a year.

The threats to the global oil supply are taking place with economists expecting energy demand to surge as nations recover from the pandemic.

In that environment, many energy analysts had expected the OPEC cartel and its allies to lift more restrictions and let the oil flow more freely. But OPEC, rattled by plunging prices over the past year, chose not to open the spigots, sending prices higher still.

The strikes on Saudi sites have increased in frequency and precision in recent weeks, raising concerns about Saudi Arabia's air defences and the expanding capabilities of the Iran-backed rebels across the border in Yemen.

A Saudi-led coalition launched an air campaign on war-torn Yemen's capital and on other provinces Sunday in retaliation for missile and drone attacks on Saudi Arabia that were claimed by the Iranian-backed rebels.

The official Saudi Press Agency quoted an anonymous official in the Ministry of Energy as saying that a drone flew in from the sea and struck an oil storage site in Ras Tunura, the port run by Saudi Arabia's state oil company, Aramco.

It claimed the strike did not cause any damage. Saudi Aramco, the kingdom's oil giant that now has a sliver of its worth traded publicly on the stock market, did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

The Ministry of Energy denounced the strike as "an act of sabotage" targeting not only Saudi Arabia "but also the security and stability of energy supplies to the world."

When key oil facilities in Saudi Arabia were attacked in 2019, global energy prices soared 14% the next day. But that prior attack disrupted more than half of its daily exports, halting 5% of world crude oil output.
